

CELEBRATING EID

EID MOON SIGHTING

Ramadan starts with the sighting of the new moon in the 9th month of the Islamic lunar calendar. While Eid al-Fitr begins when the new moon is sighted at the end of Ramadan.

NEW CLOTHES

Many children receive new clothes for Eid. It's a tradition to wear something special for this joyful occasion.

CHARITY AND GIVING

Eid is a time where families give to charity and is a reminder to be grateful and help the less fortunate.

EID BREAKFAST

Before going for the Eid prayer, families have a small special breakfast including sweet dishes, fruits, and treats.

Eid al-Fitr

"Festival of Breaking the Fast" celebrating the end of Ramadan, the month of fasting

SPECIAL PRAYERS

On the morning of Eid, Muslims gather for a special prayer called Salat al-Eid.

EID DECORATIONS

Homes and streets are decorated with lights, banners, and colourful designs.

VISITING FRIENDS AND FAMILY

After the Eid prayer, families often visit friends and relatives to share happiness, gifts, food, and each other's company

EID FESTIVALS AND FOOD

Special dishes and desserts are prepared for Eid, and it's common for families and friends to indulge in festive feasts.

EID GREETINGS

It is customary for Muslims to exchange greetings and good wishes on Eid such as Eid Mubarak, which translates to "Blessed Eid."

GIFTS AND GOODIES

Eid is a time for receiving gifts! Children often get presents, sweets, and money from their parents, relatives, and friends.

